

PATENT FOR THE CONTINUOUS DIGITAL PRINTING ON METAL STRIP

The Italian Patents and Trademarks Office has granted Globus S.r.l. the Patent for the continuous digital printing on metal strip, the innovative process marketed by Globus under the Coilor name.

Globus S.r.l. welcomes the recognition and dedicates this milestone to the one who gave spark to this all, the Company Founder Mr. Luigi Bagnasco.

The journey started with an intuition which became reality when Globus S.r.l. built a Pilot Line to prove the feasibility and show the results of this innovative industrial process that is nowadays pushing the technological boundaries in the prepainted metal coils industry.

This acknowledgement comes just when the first industrial-scale Coilor digital printing line is being delivered and covers this innovation for the following 20 years.

We thank the Customers involved for sharing our vision about the significant impact that this technology will have in the prepainted steel and aluminium market.
